

ABSTRACT

The summarization of this dissertation can be done as follows. Most of the producers wish to end up their task at the Katunayeka air cargo village. In other words manufactures aim on catering for the demand of the International markets while serving to the local markets. The nation's economical development highly depends on the exports, imports and the transshipments. The main place which facilitates the last part of the operation of airfreights for the whole Sri Lanka is the Katunayeka air cargo village. All the freight forwarding company offices and their warehouses gathered there to ease handling of consignments. The research has to be done to find out the facts affect to enhance the efficiency of logistics operations at Katunayeka cargo village and hypothesis would be, improving those facts would cause to enhance the volume of airfreight in future which generate more profit to the nation. The methodology of collecting data in this dissertation is the interviewing officers. After analysing data, have to understand the behaviour of the data sets. Finally, with the help of all relevant national and international information and analysed data, have to suggest possible ways of enhancing the efficiency of logistics operations at Katunayeka cargo village.

Key words: cargo village, airfreights, warehouses, import & export, export and transshipments

